1Q22: Recovery Prospects Priced In; Downgrade To HOLD

Maybank's 1Q22 net profit was in line, underpinned by improving credit cost trend but partly offset by weaker fee income. Given the commendable share price performance (outperformed the KLCI by 9% ytd), we take the opportunity to downgrade our recommendation to HOLD on valuation grounds. The stock is trading at -0.5SD to historical five-year mean P/B which we deem to be fair. Target price remains unchanged at RM9.45 (1.17x 2022/23F P/B, 9.8% ROE).

RESULTS

- In line. Malayan Banking (Maybank) reported 1Q22 net profit of RM2,056.9m (-14.5% yoy, -0.6% qoq). 1Q22 earnings are in line, representing 26% of our full-year forecast. Lower-than-expected net credit cost (32bp vs 50bp estimates) and opex was offset by weaker-than-expected fee income.
- 1Q22 earnings was flat (-0.6% qoq) as commendable pre-provision and PBT growths of 6% qoq and 9% qoq respectively were offset by the impact of the prosperity tax (Cukai Makmur). The group had experienced a positive qoq operating JAWS with overall revenue expanding 3% qoq vs the flat opex trend. Revenue growth was underpinned by:

 a) 2bp qoq expansion in NIM, and b) derivative income, but partially offset by a 10% qoq decline in net fee income on lower brokerage income and service fees.
- 1Q22 earnings declined 14.5% yoy, partly attributable to the impact of the prosperity tax. Group PBT contracted by a milder 6.7% yoy. Pre-provision operating profit declined 12.1% yoy with 22% yoy and 49% yoy contractions in net fee and insurance income respectively being the primary drag. The impact on PBT was however partially mitigated by lower net credit cost of 32bp in 1Q22 vs 62bp in 1Q21. The weakness in fee income was due to lower brokerage and wealth management.
- Toning down fee income expectations. Taking a more conservative view, we have toned down our fee income trend assumptions for 2022 from a growth of 2% yoy to a contraction of 4% yoy by factoring in: a) weaker brokerage and wealth management income trends, and b) the potential impact of rising inflation on credit cards and other consumption related fee income. All in all, we are now expecting a 5% yoy contraction in group non-interest income for FY22 but a 5.6% expansion in FY23. In our previous assumption, we were expecting a flattish non-interest income trend for FY22.

STOCK IMPACT

• Loans growth intact. The group reported 1Q22 loans growth of 5.2% yoy and 1.5% qoq. Growth was led by Singapore with 7.2% yoy and Malaysia at 4.9% yoy while Indonesia loans contracted 2.0% yoy. Domestically, loans growth was held up by mortgages (6.3% yoy) and SME (9.8% yoy). Overall loans growth in 1Q22 is tracking our full-year estimates of 5.0% yoy.

keithwee@uobkayhian.com

- Friday, 27 May 2022
- NIM trend on an upward trajectory but to be partially offset by declining CASA. NIM trended up 2bp qoq and 3bp yoy, underpinned by lower funding cost from strong current account and savings account (CASA) growth of 9.6% yoy vs fixed deposit growth of 1.1% yoy. Management guiding for a 5bp NIM expansion in 2022, driven by the expectations of two overnight policy rate (OPR) hikes in Malaysia. We have taken a more conservative view, pencilling in a more modest 2bp NIM expansion for 2022 as we expect the reopening of the economy coupled with rising inflationary cost on consumers to result in lower CASA ratio, which we believe may have peaked at 47% for the group in 4Q21 (1Q22: 46%). That said, the positive impact of two expected OPR hikes in Malaysia should still help the group deliver positive NIM trend in 2022. In theory, every 25bp OPR hike should help lift the group's NIM by 3bp on a full-year basis.
- Operating cost discipline remains strong. The group has managed to retain overall opex growth at a respectable 4% yoy in 1Q22 vs our full-year opex growth assumption of 6% yoy, despite the rising inflationary pressure. Benign staff cost (+1% yoy) had helped to underpin overall opex growth, with only marketing expenses (+12% yoy) experiencing an expected strong uptick, in tandem with the economic reopening.
- Asset quality. 1Q22 group GIL ratio edged downwards to 1.95% (4Q21: 1.99%). The improvement was underpinned by lower GIL ratio from its Singapore operations (-30bp to 1.38%) but partly offset by a slight uptick in GIL ratio in Malaysia (+3bp to 1.22%) which was in tandem with the ongoing unwinding of the loan moratorium. Overall group loans under targeted assistance has also declined to 12% from 20% (end-21) and is expected to decline further in the subsequent quarters. The current take-up rate for the URUS repayment assistance (B50 consumer borrowers requiring a further extension in assistance for an additional two years from end-21) remains low at 0.3%.
- Lowering net credit cost guidance. Net credit cost came in at 32bp in 1Q22 vs management's full-year guidance of 40-50bp and our forecasted 50bp. Management indicated that it is not looking to set aside further pre-emptive provisions in 2022, given the improved macroeconomic outlook. As such, there could be potential for full-year credit cost to come in lower than our 50bp assumption, which prompts us to lower our 2022 net credit cost assumptions to 45bp from 50bp.
- Outlook. Management has retained its 2022 key guidance of: a) ROE: 9.5-10.0%, b) cost-to-income ratio of 45%-46%, c) net credit cost range of 40-50bp, and d) 5bp NIM expansion.

EARNINGS REVISION/RISK

 Our earnings forecasts are unchanged as lower fee income assumptions are offset by lower net credit cost assumptions of 45bp, 42bp and 38bp for FY22/23/24 vs previous assumptions of 50bp/45bp/40bp respectively.

VALUATION/RECOMMENDATION

• Downgrade to HOLD with unchanged target price of RM9.45 (1.17x 2022/23F P/B. 9.8% ROE) on valuation grounds as share price has performed favourably (+7% ytd). This has raised valuations up to -0.5SD from its historical mean, which we think is fair as the market is unlikely to re-rate valuations of banking stocks meaningfully above mean P/B in the near term, given the potential prospects of slowing macroeconomic growth outlook. Given the limited upside to our target price, which implies a historical five-year mean P/B of 1.17x, we downgrade our recommendation to a HOLD.
